RELATIVE RANK OF CITIES.

In 1870 there were but fourteen cities each containing more than 100,000 inhabitants. In 1880 this number had increased to twenty, and in 1890 to twenty-eight.

In 1880 there was but one city, New York, which had a population in excess of a million. In 1890 there were three, New York, Chicago, and Philadelphia.

The number and relative rank of cities having a population of 100,000 or more at the date of each of these censuses are set forth in the following table.

Rank.	1890.	1880.	1870.

VALUES IN UNITED STATES MONEY

OF THE

PURE GOLD OR SILVER

REPRESENTING RESPECTIVELY THE MONETARY UNITS AND STANDARD COINS OF FOREIGN COUNTRIES.

The first section of the Act of March 3, 1873, provides "that the value of Foreign Coin, as expressed in the money of account of the United States, shall be that of the pure metal of such coin of standard value," and that "the values of the standard coins in circulation of the various nations of the world shall be estimated annually by the Director of the Mint, and be proclaimed on the first day of January by the Secretary of the Treasury."

The estimates of values contained in the following table are those made by the Director of the Mint, January 1st, 1890, in compliance with the above stated provisions of law.
